

Last updated: May 17, 2018

Acknowledgement and Acceptance of Terms

Paincallsfortransformation.com is committed to protecting your privacy. Our Privacy Policy sets forth our current privacy practices with regard to the information we collect when you or your computer interact with our website. By accessing paincallsfortransformation.com, you acknowledge and fully understand our Privacy Policy, and freely consent to the information collection and use practices described in this Privacy Policy.

Participating Merchant Policies

Related services and offerings with links from this website, including vendor sites, have their own privacy statements that can be viewed by clicking on the corresponding links within each respective website. Online merchants and others who participate in paincallsfortransformation.com services are encouraged to participate in industry privacy initiatives, and to take a responsible attitude towards consumer privacy. However, since we do not have direct control over the policies or practices of participating merchants and other third parties, we are not responsible for the privacy practices or contents of those sites. We recommend and encourage you to always review the privacy policies of merchants and other third parties before you provide any information or complete any transaction with such parties.

Information We Collect and How We Use It

This site collects certain information from and about its users in three ways: directly from our web server logs, cookies, the user, including in response to surveys and questionnaires and consent voluntarily shared in forums.

a. Web Server Logs

When you visit our website, we may track information to administer the site and analyze its usage. Examples of information we track may include:

- Your internet protocol address
- The kind of browser and/or computer you use
- The number of links you click within the site
- The state or country from which you accessed the site
- The date and time of your visit
- The name of your internet service provider

- The web page you linked to our site from
- The pages you viewed on the site

b. Use of Cookies

Paincallsfortransformation.com may use cookies to personalize or enhance your user experience. A cookie is a small text file that is placed on your hard disk by a web page server. Cookies cannot be used to run programs or deliver viruses to your computer. Cookies are uniquely assigned to you, and can only be read by a web server in the domain that issued the cookie to you.

One of the primary purposes of cookies is to provide a convenience feature to save you time. For example, if you personalize a web page, or navigate within a site, a cookie helps the site to recall your specific information on subsequent visits. Hence, this simplifies the process of delivering relevant content and eases site navigation by providing and saving your preferences and login information, as well as providing personalized functionality.

Paincallsfortransformation.com reserves the right to share aggregated site statistics with partner companies, but does not allow other companies to place cookies on our website unless there is a temporary, overriding customer value (such as merging into paincallsfortransformation.com a site that relies on third-party cookies).

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies. If you reject cookies by changing your browser settings, then be aware that this may disable some of the functionality on our website.

c. Personal Information of Users

Visitors to our website may be permitted to register to purchase items. When you register, we will request some personal information such as name, address, email, telephone number or facsimile number, account number and/or other relevant information. If you are purchasing an item, we may request financial information. Any financial information we collect is used solely to bill you for the item you purchased. If you purchase by credit card, this information may be forwarded to your credit card provider. For other types of registrations, we will ask for the relevant information. You may also be asked to disclose personal information to us so that we can provide assistance and information to you. For example, such data may be warranted in order to provide online technical support and troubleshooting. We will also collect such additional personal information as you choose to share with us, such as photos or other content you may post, including, as you may elect to post, social media handles, links to Facebook groups or Google Groups, and other social platforms (“Posted Content”). You may not post (i) your own or third party email addresses, telephone numbers, physical addresses; or (ii) personal information of third parties.

We will not disclose personally identifiable information (other than Posted Content, which you agree to make public by posting) we collect from you to third parties without your permission, except to the extent necessary, including:

- To fulfill your service requests for products or services;
- To protect ourselves, our customers or our vendors from liability, or to defend our rights, including investigations of fraud or misconduct;
- To third parties who have agreed in writing to maintain such information in confidence and use such information solely in performance of services to us;
- To respond to legal process or comply with law, including subpoenas;
- To entities under common ownership or control with us or to our owners; or
- In connection with a merger, acquisition or liquidation of the company.

How do I withdraw my consent?

If after you opt-in or after having not initially taken an opportunity to opt-out, you change your mind, you may withdraw your consent for us to contact you, for the continued collection, use or disclosure of your information, at any time, by contacting us at sam@paincallsfortransformation.com

Use of Web Beacons or GIF Files

Paincallsfortransformation.com web pages may contain electronic images known as web beacons – sometimes also called single-pixel gifs – that allow Paincallsfortransformation.com to count users who have visited those pages and to deliver co-branded services. Paincallsfortransformation.com may include web beacons in promotional email messages or newsletters in order to determine whether messages have been opened and acted upon.

Some of these web beacons may be placed by third party service providers to help determine the effectiveness of our advertising campaigns or email communications. These web beacons may be used by these service providers to place a persistent cookie on your computer. This allows the service provider to recognize your computer each time you visit certain pages or emails, and compile anonymous information in relation to those page views, which in turn enables us and our service providers to learn which advertisements and emails bring you to our website and how you use the site. Paincallsfortransformation.com prohibits web beacons from being used to collect or access your personal information.

Accessing Web Account Information

We will provide you with the means to ensure that personally identifiable information in your web account file is correct and current. You may review this information by contacting us via email to sam@paincallsfortransformation.com.

Do Not Track

We have not implemented any technology that would effectively recognize do-not-track signals and note that some content available on our website is made available through relationships with third party providers who we do not control, and who may have collect and/or disclose personally identifiable information.

How to Correct, Update, or Delete Your Information

If you would like to: access, correct, amend or delete any personally identifiable information we store about you, register a complaint, or simply want more information, contact us at sam@paincallsfortransformation.com.

How We Protect Information

We use commercially reasonable procedures to protect the personal information that we collect from you against loss, theft and misuse, as well as unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and destruction. We have developed and implemented and continue to maintain and monitor a written information security program applicable to all records containing personal information. This security program is appropriate to the size, scope and type of our business, the resources available to us, the amount of stored data, and the need for security and confidentiality of the personal information we store.

No security system is impenetrable. We cannot guarantee the security of our databases or the security during transmission to us of the information you supply over the internet. You can help us by taking precautions to protect your personal information when you are on the internet, and only disclose information that you want made public. Change your passwords often using a combination of letters and numbers, and make sure to use a secure web browser.

For the purposes of this Privacy Policy, personal information may be transferred to, processed, stored and accessed by us, our affiliates and third parties in Europe and in other jurisdictions where we or they operate. Courts and other authorities in these jurisdictions may, in certain circumstances, be entitled to access your personal information. By using this website, you consent to this transfer, processing, storage and access of your personal information in and/or outside of the jurisdiction in which you reside.

Aggregate Data

We may share and publicize aggregate and/or de-identified information shared with third parties and the public.

Children Under 18

We do not specifically market to or knowingly collect personal information from children under 18 for marketing purposes. Because some information is collected online, it may not appear to be the personal information of a child under 18. If a child under 18 submits personal information to us, and we learn that the personal information is the information of a child under 18, we will attempt to delete the information as soon as possible. If you are under 18, please do not register for any of our services or provide us any information about yourself (such as your name, email address or phone number).

Changes to this Privacy Policy

We have the discretion to occasionally update this Privacy Policy. When we do, we will also revise the updated date at the top of this Privacy Policy page. We encourage you to periodically review this privacy statement to stay informed about how we are helping to protect the personal information we collect. Your continued use of this service constitutes your agreement to this Privacy Policy and any updates.

Translations

This Privacy Policy is executed in English. You agree and acknowledge that you have reviewed this Privacy Policy in English. To the extent that any translations of this Privacy Policy are provided, they are solely for convenience and are of no binding effect. The English language version of this Privacy Policy shall control.

Contacting Us

If you have questions regarding this Privacy Policy, its implementation, failure to adhere to this Privacy Policy and/or our general practices, please contact us at sam@paincallsfortransformation.com.

Paincallsfortransformation.com will use commercially reasonable efforts to promptly respond and resolve any problem or question.